Important and significant things are happening today in Mexico.....

Constitutional reforms regarding energy, petroleum, education, taxes, telecommunications, finances, labor, and voting policies, among others
Currently in Coahuila, as well as in other places in our country, the first eleven land spaces are being auctioned, so that companies interested in the exploration, extraction, and marketing of petroleum and Shale gas can legally do so. These activities could only be performed by PEMEX, a government owned Company in the recent past. Now, they are open to anybody that wants to, and can perform them.
The ability to facilitate all procedures and registrations, as well as efficiently aid in the managing of operations for their companies in a clear, quick, but most of all, safe way.

We want to have housing, medical services, schools, and public services in adequate quantity and quality, to take advantage of the new work opportunities.

Today, in Coahuila, all of our townships are preparing to be ready for new investors.
Acuña, as the first city to partner up and promote the Ports to Plains Alliance in Mexico, has hosted this conference three times. We have also achieved important progress in the 4 areas we have been working in parallel with the Alliance: Foreign trade, public health, and communications.
